The Editor's Column

By PHIL NESBITT

Festivities in favor of the membership of the Carmel Art Association occurred on Monday evening in the banquet hall of the Mission Ranch. It was in the mood of "Greek meets Greek," a mood which invariably distinguishes gatherings of those involved in artistic creativeness. However, there was a general overall sense of congeniality which left the individual member with a feeling of "something accomplished, something done." But in the conversation following the meal of turkey and cranberry sauce, the air grew mildly blue with beautifully disguised punitive words bearing upon the potent issue of the forms and manners to be followed for the forthcoming yearly elections of the board of directors. George Seidenick, an inveterate and able supporter of positive and constructive action where the gallery is concerned, spoke at some length. His ideas, while not following the established policy of the gallery, were vaguely revolutionary but not quite enough so to please the general trend of the membership. Buck Warshawsky, ever a proponent of action and reform positive, suggested wisely that the present existing board of directors resign in a body, since the few attending directors at regular monthly meetings had grown somewhat inactive. There appears to be a subtly rampant feeling among the gallery membership that the perpetual reinstatement of the previous year's board of directors needs drastic revision. This is indeed true. There was a suggestion made by one of the members, that the general election to occur on the second Monday in August be the inception of the idea of starting from scratch in the election of the board of directors.

Howell Armor, a retired Naval Commander, who is pursuing his lifelong hobby of wood carving (quite nicely, it appears), who is a somewhat recent member of the Art Association, rose and spoke words marked by the intelligence which formed them. He was roundly applauded for both the wit and wisdom of his sound utterances. Paul Whitman, a member deeply versed in the politics of art, spoke words of caution and foreboding. The absence of the Art Association president, Myron Oliver, was lamented. Nellie Montague, curator of the gallery, was happily present and was joyously applauded. After all, Carmel should be definitely proud of Nellie's successful efforts to place the gallery upon a positive economic basis. Zenas Potter, retired governmental authority on the subject of prices, etc., gave an intelligent and illustrated survey of the rise of the gallery in matters of lucre. All in all, it was a happily congenial gathering of the most interested members of the association. The final words of the evening asked every last one of the gallery association membership to express their interest in their own gallery by appearing without fail for the annual election of the future board of directors, on the second Monday in the coming month of August.

New Flavin Novel, "The Enchanted," Comes Out May 23

The Enchanted, Martin Flavin's new novel, will be brought out by Harper and Brothers on May 23. A review by Rosalind Sharpe appears on the feature page of this issue of The Pine Cone.

Flavin, after a business trip to New York, is back on his ranch in the Cachagua district, where he has made his home since the sale of his place, Spindrift, in Carmel Highlands.

The Enchanted comes after a five year interval, following Journey in the Dark, Flavin's Pulitzer prize novel, which also won the Harper prize in 1943, and set literary circles talking about the versatility of the writer who after winning nationwide recognition as a playwright turns novelist with such satisfying success. Two novels preceded Journey in the Dark, Mr. Littlejohn, and Corporal Cat.

Flavin, who has called this area home for many years, is a native Californian, born in San Francisco. His three children, Flavia, Sean and Martin, spend much of their time here, Flavia making her home with her father on the Cachagua ranch.

Carmel Has Bigger And Better List Of Delinquent Taxes

Taking up about twice as much space in The Pine Cone this year as last, the Delinquent Tax List makes its bow in this issue. According to City Tax Collector Thomas Hefling, delinquency is 2.109 per cent for this year. Last year it was 1.3435, and in 1945, .9676, less than one per cent. Lest people who take statistics seriously think this increase in delinquency is significant of something or other, Mr. Hefling hastens to point out that in 1930 it was 15%

"It isn't that people don't have the money to pay their taxes now, it's just that there are many new property owners, people who didn't understand their title insurance policies and didn't realize they had taxes to pay this year. They'll come rushing in as soon as they see their names in the delinquent list and pay up."

They'd better come rushing in, Hefling added. Penalty of 8 per cent is attached to delinquent first installment, 3 per cent added for delinquent second installment, plus $1.00 charge for handling the delinquent list per delinquency, and after June 1, to all this, ½ per cent per month in addition for each month of delinquency.

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

By GLENN CLAIRMONTE

In Monterey Chairman Don Jaques reported at Monday evening's meeting of the school board that he had been considering criticism levelled against a biology course conducted by Mrs. Ruth Luenberger. He advised the few objectors who were present that every study unit is always in the process of formation and that public interest contributes to the teacher's ability to plan the methods of education. The majority of parents who attended the meeting expressed their confidence in Mrs. Luenberger's teaching of the difficult subject of reproduction, and it was the concensus of opinion that the administration had the overwhelming confidence of the community for the furtherance of its program.

The Monterey election held on May 12 expressed the will of the residents to the extent of naming Dr. Hugh F. Dormody the new mayor, to take office May 19, and Horace Mercurio and Warner Keeley the two new councilmen. Dr. Dormody is a popular local surgeon, Mr. Mercurio is the manager of the sardine boat owners organization, and Mr. Keeley is a navy veteran and successful business man. Remaining on the council are Guy S. Curtis and Shedo Russo, who have two more years to serve.

Sixty-five percent of registered voters went to the polls, and the deep interest in the election was attributed to the heavy campaign conducted by the ten candidates for seats on the council.

PRIZE WINNING ESSAYS

Next week The Pine Cone will carry the essays by Joyce Morris and Julia Graves that won first and second prizes in the American Legion Auxiliary Americanization Essay Contest.

At the Monday evening meeting of the Monterey school board Superintendent Glen T. Goodwill recommended the adoption for the next year of a salary schedule for teachers of high and elementary schools ranging from a minimum of $2,600 to a maximum of $4,400. The board's approval makes it possible for all teachers in the district to receive similar salaries based on training and experience. Goodwill admitted that the increases will make it necessary to transfer funds from the building fund for the present, but announced that in the future state aid will be required unless the legislature passes the bills now pending for alteration of the tax maximum.

Congressional approval of the purchase of Del Monte Hotel properties by the Navy, for establishment of a postgraduate naval training school, is now near at hand, with the recommendation of the House Armed Services committee. The bill authorizes an expenditure of $2,500,000 for the purchase and conversion, and the full program of training will involve $40,000,000, providing for the education of 500 line officers. This will be a school of equal importance with Annapolis and Newport, Rhode Island, the first to be opened in the west.

Dan Harris' third one-man show in three months will be opened at the Pat Wall Gallery on May 20. This young artist's work has recently been shown at the Museum of Modern Art in San Francisco and at the Daliel Gallery in Monterey. His modern conceptions in daring color have caused a good deal of favorable comment.

LWV Convention Program Announced; Adm. Turner Talk On U.N. Is Highlight

Admiral R. Kelly Turner's address on The United States and The United Nations is the highlight, so far as the general membership is concerned, of the League of Women Voters state convention at Asilomar next Wednesday evening, and "is of particular interest to league members," says the announcement from the state board, "since the national organization has had the item 'Acceptance by the U. S. of its full share of responsibility for strengthening the U. N.' on its agenda for the past two years, and local leagues all over the country as well as in California have assumed their share in working to develop public opinion in this direction."

The opening session Tuesday at 10:00 a. m. is devoted to organization and reports, with the state president, Mrs. George Scheer of Berkeley, in charge. There follows the presentation of the proposed program of work, the policy statement, and platform for 1947-48 for consideration during the convention. This program, policy, and platform are based upon previous discussion and voting at the conference held in the northern and southern parts of the state during the winter and spring. Mrs. Scheer will report on the National Council meeting of the League, which she attended in Washington last month.

The Council voted to oppose the indirect attacks on the reciprocal trade program, and to fight the $150 million reduction in the appropriation for carrying on relief in war devastated countries. "The Council pointed out," said Mrs. Scheer upon her return, "that the original appropriation of $350 million was a minimum required to meet the need which is more serious than had been anticipated due to extremely bad harvests. The Council further emphasized that the United States, when it failed to support the continuation of UNRRA, assumed responsibility for carrying on relief itself for at least another year."

Tuesday afternoon will be devoted to workshops in various conference rooms conducted by the state chairmen of education, pub-

Commencement Speakers Will Discuss Humanics

Three phases of humanics will be the subject for the graduation speakers June 13 when the 46 members of the Carmel High School senior class receive their diplomas at Sunset Auditorium from Board President Harold Neilsen.

Victor Harber will discuss Humanics and Education; Roger Byers, Humanics and Science; Mary Gregory, Humanics and Society.

In addition an interesting musical program is being planned which includes a vocal solo by Robert Jensen, ensemble singing by a group of ten seniors, and several numbers by the girls' chorus.

The high school orchestra will play the processional and recessional.

Awarding of the gold C to two outstanding seniors, and presentation of the class gift by Sue Dekker will be other events of the evening. The gift is a redwood log section sign to be placed by the gate of the high school. It is made out of a redwood log section 24 inches thick and six feet in diameter. The legend, Carmel High School, is being carved by Ronald A. Wilson, superintendent of Point Lobos State Park.

In addition to the gold Cs, other awards will be made by the Busch-Lomb company; by the Soptomorist Club, and by the Rainbow Mothers' Club.

Public Invited To Annual Spring Concert At Sunset

The spring concert of the Carmel High School, under the direction of John Farr, head of the music department, will take place in the high school cafeteria on Wednesday evening, May 21, at 8:00. The orchestra will open the program and Mary Gregory will then give a piano solo. There will be a violin duet by Basil Allaire and Joan Harrington, accompanied by Connie McKibbin. Joyce Stiles, contralto, will give a solo, and Elton Clark will give a French horn solo, accompanied by June Kocher. The Boys' Quartet, Bob Jensen, Paul Warner, Perry Brown and Basil Allaire, will perform next, and Basil Allaire will present a viola solo. The Girls' Glee Club, accompanied by Margaret Rigdon, will close the program.

Pine Cone Urges Re-Election Of Neilsen, Ferrante

Election today, 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. at Sunset School. Bars all closed, and nobody can buy bottled alcoholic beverages at the grocery or the drug stores.

Heroes of this arid occasion are Peter Ferrante and Harold Nielsen, running for election to the school board but not against each other. There is no contest, for there are two seats to be filled and only two official candidates.

Even if somebody were running against them, Ferrante and Nielsen should have the vote of every responsible citizen, for they have proved themselves good school board members, and not bad fellows in other respects.

Ferrante has served seven long years on the board, by appointment for three of them, filling out the term of somebody, who Ferrante doesn't recall, but he thinks whoever it was got mad and quit, which sounds reasonable enough, because that is something that

FORT ORD SOFTBALLERS AT CARMEL TONIGHT

The Carmel Pine Cone nine will play host to the Fort Ord Receiving Unit aggregation tonight at Sunset Field. Game time is 8 p.m. and a closely contested encounter is on tap. The Receiving Unit has the fastest team at Fort Ord and plays in the A division of the Salinas City League.

Ky Miyamoto will serve them up for The Pine Cone and will be after his fourth victory of the season. The Fort Ord pitcher is heralded as one of the best in California so a sterling hurlers duel should be in the offing.

SHAMROCKS COP ABALONE LEAGUE TITLE; PILOTS TAKE SECOND SPOT

Having cinched the title on the previous Sunday, the strong Shamrock nine eased up a trifle and the Pilots, piloted by Charley Childers, hung a defeat on them in the season finale. Childers' gang vowed they would take the measure of the high-flying leaders, and by heads up play they did just that. The offerings of Jack Giles were well received by the Pilot swingers and they chalked up 9 markers to 5 for the Champs. Mike Balazs and Captain Charley led the Pilot batters. Mike collected a home run and two singles for his efforts while Charley got two blows and drove in two runs.

In the second game of last Sunday's doubleheader, the lowly Tigers again upset a favored team when they knocked out the Hull-led Giants, 10 to 4. Ivan Kelsey came out of retirement in this contest to spark the Tigers to a well earned victory. It wasn't enough for Ivan to handcuff the Giant batters but he also teed off for a home run to provide the power for the Tigers.

With the conclusion of play in the Abalone League softball interest will now be centered on Sunset Field under the lights. Plans are being made for a Recreation League to include many of the players who participated in the popular Abalone League. The Carmel Boys' Club and The Pine Cone Juniors have already organized teams which will compete with boys' teams from the surrounding communities. For the enjoyment of softball fans who like their softball on a highly competitive basis The Pine Cone is sponsoring a team which will bring the best in softball to Carmel.

CARMEL HIGH PLACES FIFTH IN CCAL TRACK MEET

A game band of Carmel thinclads put up a good effort at the CCAL track meet last Saturday and finished ahead of several of the larger schools in the league. Individual performances by Carmel boys were gratifying to local fans who journeyed to Hollister for the meet. Bob Barry, Carmel's sensational distance runner, won the mile run in the good time of 4:41 and he was closely followed by Howard DeAmaral, who put on a splendid performance. Vic Harber ran third in the 880 yard run after fighting his way through a pack of 24 boys who started in this event. Dick Gargiulo ran fifth in the century and furlong sprints. Carmel hurdlers met rough obstacles when they were the victims of spills during the races.

Bob Barry, Howard DeAmaral, Vic Harber and Dick Gargiulo with Coach Howard Byrne will travel to Berkeley Saturday to compete in the NCS meet held at Edwards Field on the University of California campus. Trials in this meet will start at 9:30 a. m.

PINE CONE DROPS GAMES ON ROAD TRIP

Traveling to Salinas and Gilroy last week in search of softball victories proved fruitless for The Pine Cone nine when they came out on the short end of both contests.

At Salinas the locals bumped into their old rivals, the Castroville Dons, who presented a veteran lineup from last season which was good enough to garner a 3-1 victory. Local softball fans can look forward to the next meeting of these teams as they never fail to produce crowd pleasing games. Inability to hit in the pinches proved the downfall of The Pine Cone club in this game. The hits were equally divided but Castroville made theirs pay off and that was the ball game. Bob Smick, Castroville pitcher, was especially stingy in the clutch and bore down to accumulate 13 strikeouts for the evening.

Last Sunday evening The Pine Cone journeyed to Gilroy and receipted for a 4-1 defeat from the Knights of Columbus team of Gilroy. The Knights threw an 18-year-old pitcher at the local nine and he set them down with one hit, a single by Joe Nicholson. The Coners were hitting the ball consistently but were directing their blows to the Gilroy fielders.

Gordy Miyamoto started on the mound in this game, but encountered a rough first inning when the KC boys piled up their 4 runs. Ky came to the rescue of brother Gordy and struck out the side. The following innings were strictly a pitchers' battle, with Ky striking out the Gilroy hitters and the Gilroy chucker making the locals pop up to the fielders.

The Gilroy aggregation will come to Carmel on May 20 so Carmel softball enthusiasts will have an opportunity of seeing this fine team in action. The Pine Cone nine has vowed to reverse the decision when they meet the Knights on the local diamond.

"If We Could Have Put A Bar In The Science Unit It Would Have Been Done In Time," Says Harris

Approval from the C. P. A. authorizing the building of the new science unit at the high school has finally come through, Superintendent Leo Harris announced at the regular school board meeting Tuesday evening. Owing to the delay in receiving the permit to construct, work on the unit cannot start before August, so that the new facilities will not be available at the start of the school term in the fall.

"If we could have installed a bar in the unit, approval would probably have gone through immediately and we could have had the room completed before school opening. Night club permits are going through on schedule," Superintendent Harris commented.

The board adopted the calendar for the next school year, setting the date for opening of the fall term, Wednesday, September 10, and the closing date, June 11. A week will be allowed for Easter vacation, March 22 to 26.

Three parents, Mrs. Elizabeth Cass, Mrs. Johathan Rigdon and Mrs. Wilbur Wilkinson appeared before the board to protest the "forced" resignations of Miss Lela Becker, kindergarten teacher, and Miss Dorothy Geiselhart, fourth grade teacher at Sunset. They stated that the teachers had been asked to resign and had not been given an explanation as to why their contract would not be renewed. The mothers were satisfed with the work of the teachers, they said, and the children appeared to be happy, and they felt that to both the teachers and the parents an explanation was due.

Board members pointed out that since it is the responsibility of the superintendent and school principals to maintain the standard of efficiency of their schools, they should be free to hire the staff they need to carry on their work. If the schools fall below standard, then the board should begin to question the judgment of its administrators; but so long as the standards are maintained, the board is not justified in interfering, the board members said. However, if the teachers feel that an injustice has been done, they have the right to a hearing before the board.

It was further emphasized a request for a resignation may not imply that a teacher has been inefficient in her class work; it may be a matter of "personalities." If a teacher and principal cannot work together harmoniously, it is for the benefit of the school that the teacher should go.

The board approved issuing contracts to three new teachers: Marcia F. De Voe, Arthur J. Holman and Myra T. Mylar. Resignations were accepted from Jean Stanbridge, Harold Grande, Ruth Herzig, Mable Kerr, and Leon Minear.

Contracts were renewed with the following Sunset Teachers: Katherine French, Arthur Hull, Sylvia Jordan, Anna Kohner, Edna Lockwood, Marjorie McCausland, Constance McLaughlin, Harriett Norman, Virginia Nye, Beatrice Rea, Winifred Regier, Orville Rogers, Jeanne Staffelbach, Anne Uzzell.

Hi Chatter

By MARY GREGORY

Culminating months of industry, the home economics classes last Wednesday presented the annual spring fashion show. Forty-eight girls participated, modeling clothes they had made during the year. Barbara Stoney wrote a special skit for the affair, in which a girl, Carol Hildebrand, falls asleep wishing she might have some new clothes. In her dreams, a goddess, Colleen Wiley, appears, and shows her school skirts and blouses, dresses, sports clothes, and sleeping attire. An original song, Lovely, by Barbara Stoney, was a feature of the skit.

Musical background was provided by Mrs. Hazel Shepard, and a lovely set was made by Robert Jensen. Preceding the show John Farr's Girls' Glee Club sang three numbers, and after that Ann Thoeni played a piano solo and Joyce Stiles sang a solo.

Mrs. Muriel Dawson, who arranged the whole show, is the new home economics teacher, filling in until the end of the year because of Miss Herzig's marriage. Carla George was the general manager. Following the entertainment, tea was served. Delicious cookies were made by the girls and Mrs. Jacquelyn Crosby, head of the cafeteria, provided punch.

While the fashion show was being presented to the girls and their mothers, the faculty played the varsity baseball team in softball.

Last Friday in an exciting badminton game Freshman Edelen Cory defeated Senior Sue Dekker 11-0, 11-3, and became the girls' champion singles player. The tournament was carried on by classes. Edelen was frosh champ, defeating Sophomore Champ Joan Dillingham to place in the semi-finals. Sue made the semi-finals by defeating Junior Champ Shirley Petty.

Today the G. A. A. is having a swimming party and picnic at the new Carmel Valley Inn to honor the six new members.

A Roman banquet was held by the members of the Latin Club Tuesday evening at Marjorie Glennon's home. The menu consisted of typical Roman dishes, beginning with roast pig, and finishing with honey cakes. Those attending were Joy Wescott, June Kocher, Betty Plaxton, Louise Harber, Shirley Petty, Rose Marie Krupocki, Kathie von Meier, Laurel Hildebrand, Carol Hildebrand, Elton Clark, Harry Watson, Jennifer Lloyd, Ann Fratessa, Carmelita Fortier, Ann Preston, Marjory Glennon, Mrs. Evelyn Hildebrand, Mrs. Elise Beaton and Mrs. Earl Glennon.

All came in Roman costumes which were elaborate and authentic.

"Ten Nights" Goes Into Third Week At First Theatre

Ten Nights in a Barroom goes into its third week at the First Theatre, Monterey, this Saturday and Sunday night, May 17 and 18. The Troupers of the Gold Coast have been directed by Wilma Bott, whose many plays and star roles at the First Theatre are a matter of record.

The music used in Ten Nights: the Drunkard's song, Little Mary's death song, Mehitable's song, so deliciously done by Betty Bass, and Fanny Morgan's song, were written by Frances Montgomery, and written especially for the production of Ten Nights in a Barroom, presented by the Denny-Watrous management in the theatre of the Golden Bough, Carmel, just twenty years ago. Morris Ankrum, whom Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous had brought out from New York City to direct plays at the Golden Bough which they held for a year under a lease with Edward Kuster, directed Ten Nights.

Since that time, Morris Ankrum has become a successful director and actor in Hollywood, the Golden Bough is a memory of by-gone splendor, and the First Theatre, Monterey, has become known all over the United States for its authentic melodramas and hilarious olios. Ten Nights in a Barroom will be shown there on Saturday and Sunday nights throughout May and June.

could happen very easily on the school board, especially when hot-eyed parents come up to the board meetings and want to know why you did this and why don't you do that? When the appointive term expired Ferrante ran for re-election, was uncontested, and won. "My campaign manager was right on his toes," he told The Pine Cone yesterday. This will be his third term.

Ferrante has lived in Carmel since 1931 and in Monterey previously since 1914, when he came there as a youngster from the San Joaquin valley with his parents. He graduated from Stanford Law School in 1930 and became a member of the law firm of Hudson and Martin the same year. He and his wife, a Cleveland girl who took her master's in chemistry at Stanford and earned a Phi Beta Kappa key, have two daughters attending Carmel schools, Ann, a freshman in high school and Alice, in the fifth grade at Sunset. Busy as Mr. Ferrante is with his legal work, he has cleared away time enough to take on community responsibilities. He has served as chairman of the Monterey County Tuberculosis Association, is a director of the Carmel Music Society and of the Symphony Association. During the wartime absence of City Attorney William Hudson, Peter Ferrante served as Carmel City Attorney for a period of two and a half years. "And I enjoyed every moment of it," he says, recalling the historic citizen-council clashes in the council chambers.

Harold Nielsen has served on the school board for an equal stretch. This year he presides as chairman, and nobody in the history of man has seen him excited, mad or even slightly ruffled. He doesn't talk much either. These are great qualities in a chairman of any board.

He and his brother, Walter, came here in 1924, kids from Selma, 18 and 20, respectively. They worked around for a while, and now they own the Nielsen's Grocery. Harold has two youngsters, Gary 10, and Sharon 8, both going to Sunset.

Sunset Graduation Will Be Mexican Fashion Fiesta

Graduation exercises at Sunset School on June 12 are going to be something extra special, for the two seventh grades that step out of Sunset will exit to tunes from south of the border and in gay and colorful Mexican costumes. Mrs. Sylvia Jordan has been instructing the students in Latin American life and customs, and the idea for the Fiesta of Fashion grew and flowered under the magical influence of her enthusiasm and her boundless capacity for doing the impossible.

The stage will be set with props and scenery made by the graduates. The costumes have been made by the children, who dyed old sheets and made jewelry out of bottle tops and similar precious metals. The girls will model native costumes and North American adaptations. The boys will wear the picturesque dress of the Mexican peon. It sounds as if a fitting climax would be for the Mexican ambassador to come out and bestow the diplomas on this group of future good neighbors.

HUMMINGBIRD SQUATTER

Mrs. Katherine Allen, who has an apartment at Gardensyde, San Antonio and Eighth, has been entertaining a baby hummingbird who returns daily after flights in the garden. Mrs. Allen has named her new pet Isabelle, and is preparing an illustrated book about her. The hummingbird drinks sugar syrup from a dropper, letting the long tongue leap into the glass tube to show appreciation.

Ojai Festivals Will Present Macbeth Here

Ojai Festivals, Ltd., will present Macbeth at the Golden Bough Playhouse on Sunday afternoon, June 15, and Monday evening, June 16, starring Iris Tree for the first performance and Erica Chamblis for the second. This company is composed of the former Chekhov Players of Dartington Hall, Devonshire, who came from England during the war and operated from Ridgwood, Connecticut. They are now permanently settled in Ojai Valley and are giving a series of evenings to feature artists of international prestige in music, the dance and the theatre.

On May 4 they presented Martial Singher, baritone, accompanied by Paul Ulanowsky at the piano, and assisted by Doriot Anthony, flutist, and Victor Gottlieb, cellist. Macbeth will be their second presentation of the season and the only performance to be given outside of Ojai.

The Macbeth company will tour California, beginning with its appearance in Carmel. Local sponsors of Ojai Festivals, Ltd., are: Lady Claude Kinnoull, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts, Noel Sullivan, Dr. and Mrs. Rudolph von Urban, Herbert Heron, Miss Angie Machado, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuster, Mrs. T. M. Criley, Dr. and Mrs. Remsen Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Elston, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. John Gratiot, Mr. and Mrs. John Edwin Montague, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Lofton.

ROBINSON JEFFERS TOPIC

Toni Ricketts will give a survey of the life and work of Robinson Jeffers before Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte's class on Tuesday evening, May 20, at 7:30, in Room 11 of Sunset School. Mrs. Ricketts a few weeks ago conducted a brilliant discussion on the philosophy expressed in the 45 publications by Henry Miller, and the class was so enthusiastic over her thorough study that they have been requesting another opportunity to hear her. Her current research on the subject of Robinson Jeffers qualifies her to cover the work of this famous poet, who lives in our midst. Visitors are invited to attend.

Chinese Theatre Plans New Show In Carmel May 24

The Chinese Cultural Theatre Group, who gave the Chinese Ballet in Carmel on May 3, is planning another engagement here at the Sunset Auditorium for the evening of Saturday, May 24, with an entirely new program and completely different wardrobes. The program is entitled An Evening in Cathay and will make use of the elaborate and brilliant costumes which have been designed to portray the authentic Chinese court life of the year 5,000 B. C.

Miss Gardenia Chang, whose sword dance in the last Carmel performance delighted the audience, will take another important part in the entertainment. The troupe is touring under the auspices of United Services to China, in connection with the Northern California drive for $300,000 to relieve the suffering in China.

Industry Looks at Our Town

Maybe you read how a group of industrial experts have decided that the small town is the place for industry—not big cities. Reasons they give are better housing, pleasanter living, and more opportunity for wholesome recreation.

Well, looking around our town I'd say that was about right. Most of us own our homes, and keep them looking nice; we enjoy each other's company: and our recreations are mostly simple outdoor sports, and in the evening a mellow glass of beer with pleasant company.

As Doc Walters says, that sort of life just naturally sets you up for work the next day . . . whether it's in office, mill, or field. And Doc should know. He works fourteen hours, but never misses his morning "constitutional" or his evening glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, any industry could profit from being in a town where wholesome living, temperance, and friendship are the rule.

The Butter Flower Girl

—We were thumbing through an issue of The Review of twenty years ago and ran across an item that Mrs. Alice Cooksley, "the butter flower girl," had just returned to San Francisco after a successful tour of the Mid-West, where she made her famous butter flowers at several expositions. We had a visit with Mrs. Cooksley the other day and we told her that it would be a good thing if she were touring again—the butter industry needs some of the fine promotional work which she used to do. However, the Cooksleys—J. L. and Alice—have become so important to Carmel, Calif., with their quality restaurant business, known as "Cooksley's Hob Nob," at Dolores and Seventh streets, that we are sure they could not be spared for a tour. They have operated this restaurant, fountain and dairy store for about seven years now and we note that it is a rendezvous for the business people of the town, which is a tribute to the quality and flavor of the meals. This couple has played a big part in the development of the Dairy Industry of this country; "J. L." was one of the organizing members of the California Dairy Industry Association. We suggest that when any of you pay your next visit to Carmel, you include a call on the Cooksleys and you will be amply rewarded with friendly greeting and companionship and excellent food at most reasonable prices.

Non-operating railroad unions are demanding still another raise of

$568,000,000.00 a year

MR. & MRS. CONSUMER

MR. SHIPPER & MR. FARMER

MR. & MRS. PASSENGER

You would foot the bill!

Look out! There's another big railroad wage demand headed your way!

The non-operating unions alone—whose members do not actually operate trains—are demanding a flat increase of 20 cents an hour. These demands would cost the railroads of the country five hundred sixty-eight million dollars a year!

Last year these employes had an increase of 18½ cents an hour. This was their third major wage increase since 1939. Their average weekly pay has gone up 75%, as against a cost-of-living rise of 54%.

Since 1939, railroad wage and material costs have gone up more than three times as much as freight rates, and five times as much as passenger fares. That is why in 1946, with the largest peacetime traffic in history, the net income of railroads went down to the equivalent of only 2¼% of the net property investment.

What About 1947?

Even with the recent freight rate increase, preliminary figures indicate that the railroads will make only about the same low return in 1947 as in 1946. This will be because:

—the wage increase made in 1946 will be in effect for all of 1947;

—special payroll taxes on railroads have recently been increased;

—and passenger traffic has declined.

Where Would the Money Come From?

We can't pay out what we don't take in. And we are not taking in enough now to meet present costs and to complete the improvements in service that you need and that we want to give you.

You Would Foot the Bill!

We Should Threaten Russia With Atomic Bomb, Potter Tells P.T.A.

"After very careful thought I became convinced that I am one hundred per cent against the Truman policy," Zenas Potter told the P. T. A. at their meeting Tuesday afternoon. "My reasons for this conviction are as follows: President Truman is unrealistic. We are in an atomic age, and the next war will likely be over in a day. The winners of that war must be ruthless. Russia has a treacherous dictatorship and will give us the same treatment the Japs gave us if they can, only Russia will plan it better. We should be realistic; tell Russia we have the atomic bomb and will use it to blow her cities off the map if she doesn't agree to the Baruch plan!" Potter, who worked under Chester Bowles for the O. P. A., continued.

"The United States should have supported the United Nations. The British are now in a critical economic crisis. We could have given England the money to stay in Greece.

"We should back the United Nations with everything we have. Things should be put squarely up to the United Nations. If Russian aggression can't be checked, a new United Nations should be formed. For as it is now, we stand alone as the number one nation in the world, head on, against Russia.

"Christianity. The essence of Christianity is non-resistance, even if to save your own life. This policy is not politically possible. We have the choice of two main programs: we must either accept the Truman policy, or back the United Nations. I feel we must put things in the lap of the United Nations or else commit suicide."

Preceding Mr. Potter's talk, Mrs. Elizabeth Cass, president of the Carmel P. T. A., introduced the newly elected officers for the following year. They were: Mrs. Thomas Elston, president; Mrs. Mark Raggett, vice-president; Mrs. Edmund Sullivan, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Martin, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Eugene Scheffer, recording secretary. Also she expressed gratitude for all the help, generously given, by the outgoing officers and chairmen.

At the close of the program tea was served. Attending hostesses were Mrs. Elizabeth Cass and Mrs. Ruth Goddard Bixler. Responsible for the brilliant spring arrangements was Mrs. G. Ridgley Parker.

Knitters, Sewers Needed By Red Cross

Jane Burritt, production chairman of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross, has issued an appeal for knitters and sewers. There is a large supply of yarn on hand at the headquarters on Dolores street and sleeveless sweaters are badly needed in army hospitals.

"The sweaters are simple in design and easy to make," said Miss Burritt. "The sewing consists of children's and infants' garments to be distributed throughout the world. We need all types of workers, but right now we need knitters for the sweaters more than any other type."

The production room was opened in September, 1939, ten days after the invasion of Poland, and since then thousands of garments have been made in Carmel, both the military and refugee types. This work is to be continued as long as the Red Cross desires and is in need of clothing.

Dramatic Talent Is Revealed In Senior Play

By MARY GREGORY

A delightful surprise was in store for all those who made their wary way to the Sunset auditorium last Friday night. High school productions can be very poor. June Mad, presented by the senior class under the expert direction and guiding of Mrs. Frances Cottle Johnson, was far from being a typical high school production. The play was exceedingly well cast; the set, though simple, was very convincing; costuming and make-up were excellent; and the acting as a whole was superb.

Mary McElroy was assigned the tough role of fifteen-year-old Penny having her first painful love affair, and handled her job expertly. Joan Carr gave an outstanding performance as Penny's understanding mother. Joan was in character every second of her long part, and in our mind did a most amazing piece of work. Bill Herlihy played the part of Penny's father, Dr. Wood, who was constantly being tormented by the lovemaking of Roger Van Vleck, played by Perry Brown. Both boys did very well. G. Mervyn Roberts, Mrs. Wood's younger brother visiting from college, was excellently acted by Jim Snavely, and Sue Douglas was perfect in her part of a vivacious young neighbor who doted on Mervyn.

Outstanding characterization was achieved by Teddy Greene and Bud Pitman as the slovenly maid and the hired man, respectively. Teddy especially gave a vivid and startling performance.

Next door to the Woods lived the Harris family, composed of Chuck, Julie, and Mr. Harris. Robert Jensen played the part of Chuck, Penny's constant companion, who was very enthusiastic about flying. Robert Jensen did a fine job of portraying this spirited youth. Julie, Chuck's older sister, a sweet though slightly affected girl, was charmingly acted by Larry Harris. Mr. Harris, a widower trying hard to understand his son, was commendably played by Joe Goodrick.

That's the cast; they and all who worked so hard to make the play a success can be proud of their efforts, and be gratified in the knowledge that they have done much to revive interest in dramatics at Carmel High.

CALLING DOG OWNERS

On Tuesday afternoon there was a meeting at the Carmel police station attended by Donald Craig, commissioner of health and safety, Allen Knight, police commissioner, Chief of Police Roy Fraties and State Humane Officer Jules Kahofer for the consideration of local dog ordinances. Recommendations for enforcing the purchase of annual dog licenses will be presented at the next meeting of the council. In the meantime, dog owners who have forgotten that 1947 began in January, should pay a hasty visit to the tax collector's new office on Monte Verde near Ocean.

Monday evening, May 19, Andrew Martin, former state highway patrol officer, will meet with Mrs. Leota Tucker's class in photography to exhibit his color slides on which he has worked for many years. Everyone interested is invited to attend in the Sunset School music room at 7:30 p. m.

Garrott Sells To Silvey, But Martin Is Not In On Deal

The way things get around! For several weeks there has been a persistent rumor that Bob Martin is selling the Carmel Cleaners. Mr. Martin comes forward himself to settle the matter. He is not selling the business, nor is it for sale.

Possible cause of the rumor is the fact that the building has changed hands, Hal Garrott selling it to Kip Silvey, but the Cleaners have a ten year lease on the premises and matters will continue very much in statu quo.

What Makes Telephone Jobs Good Jobs?

We believe telephone jobs are good jobs. But we'd like to tell you something about working conditions in the Telephone Company so you may decide for yourself. Good jobs are made up of a number of things . . . for example . . .

• Is the work steady?

Telephone pay checks come regularly—month in and month out. That's mighty important to wage earners who can plan ahead and have reasonable assurance of steady telephone work all through the year, and year after year.

• Are extra payments made for Sundays worked?

Yes. Time and a half is paid for Sunday work.

• Are extra payments made for holidays worked?

Yes. Double time is paid for specified holidays worked. Full pay (with a few exceptions) is received by those who do not work these holidays. The holidays are New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Admission Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

• Are there paid vacations?

Certainly. After a year's service employees get one week with pay . . two weeks after two years on the job . . . three weeks after fifteen years.

• Are there sickness benefits, death benefits and pensions?

Yes. Since 1913, and provided at no cost to the employee.
SICKNESS BENEFITS range from four weeks at full pay plus nine weeks at half pay for an employee with two years' service on up to a year at full pay for those with 25 years' service. The spectre of illness doesn't worry the telephone family quite as much as it would without this plan.
DEATH BENEFITS to dependents range from four months' pay for an employee with two years' service on up to a full year's pay for an employee of ten years or more.

PENSIONS—a funded plan paid for wholly by the Company. Money accumulated over the past 20 years is held by the Bankers Trust Company as trustee. This money can be used for employees' pensions only. Each employee's pension is based on his rate of pay and length of service.

• Are cafeterias provided?

Employees' cafeterias, in larger offices, serving quality food at low prices . . . attractive lounge rooms . . . good surroundings . . . are just a few of the things that make telephone work pleasant.

More than 16,000 people here on the Coast have liked their telephone jobs well enough to spend more than 15 years with the company.

These things coupled with a policy of paying wages that compare with those paid for jobs requiring similar skill and training in this territory have made it possible to attract good people to these good jobs.

SURPRISING INFORMATION

Every year the Sunset School Junior Red Cross makes an afghan. The week in which we finished the one this year, we received a letter thanking us for the one we sent last year. It was from a service man in England. He told us that he had never seen one like it, for the ones they have there are made from different material. Our afghan had a label of the Carmel Red Cross on it, so he knew where to write. He said that the afghan was for his new baby and that he and his wife appreciated it very much.—Carroll Reid, Junior Red Cross and welfare chairman.

Joan Of Lorraine Opens Monday At Golden Bough

Joan of Lorraine, Maxwell Anderson's great play about Joan of Arc and her times, will open Monday night, 8:30, at Golden Bough Playhouse. A cast of twenty-five, headed by Jana Garth as Mary Grey and Joan, and Lloyd Weer in the double role of the director and the inquisitor, has been carefully chosen by Edward Kuster from the best talent available on Monterey Peninsula.

That a play about the dark and forbidding days of the early fifteenth century has had such an extraordinary run on Broadway, no straight play ever having had its equal in boxoffice returns, is due to the ingenious and fascinating device of a "play within a play," by means of which the author has bridged the five hundred years and more lying between Joan's time and ours and has brought her problems straight down to every one of us who faces life today.

The cast is as follows: Masters (the director) (inquisitor), Lloyd Weer; Al (the stage manager), Charles Kilian; Mary Grey (Joan), Jana Garth; Abbey (Jacques d'Arc) (Father Massieu), Albert Van Houtte; Tessie (the assistant stage manager) (Aurore), Mingdon Todd; Marie Barnes (the wardrobe mistress) (Isabelle Romee), Berthe-Marie Lane; Charlie (the electrician), Steve Crouch, Jr.; Cordwell (Jean d'Arc), Art Balazs; Dollner (Pierre d'Arc), Andrew Di Girolamo; Elling (Durand Laxart), Gene Eplett; Farwell (Jean de Metz), Adrian Sherman; Garder (Bertrand de Poulengy), Gene Kaufman; Sheppard (Alain Chartier) (The Dauphin), Lee Crowe.

Jeffson (Georges de Tremoille), John Higbee; Kipner (archbishop of Rheims), Eugene Watson; Long (Dunois, bastard of Orleans), Richard Sumner; Noble (La Hire), Nicky Le Feuvre; Quirke (St. Michael) (the executioner), Norman Romwall; Miss Reeves (St. Catherine), Charlotte Bohn; Miss Sadler (St. Margaret), Gabrielle Kuster; Champlain (Cauchon, Bishop of Beauvais), Octavius Sisson; Smith (Thomas de Courcelles), Hal Boyd; Hart (d'Estivet), Thomas Morley.

Josephine Booth Conveys Modern Feeling In Dance

Last Friday afternoon in the Golden Bough Playhouse Josephine Booth presented a program of modern dancing for the benefit of the Smith College 75th Anniversary Fund. Through the medium of what is generally called "The Modern Dance" Miss Booth sought to express her personal feelings about and reactions to the world in which she lives, and which lives in her. She is blessed with an uncommonly personable body, which moves with grace and expression, but her movements in general seemed bound by the academic gestures, which apparently have become as set in modern dancing as the pirouette and arabesque of classic ballet. Arms and legs were generally akimbo and there was a certain feeling of lack of fulfillment in many of her conceptions. These qualities were used to good effect in several of her dances—particularly the Neuro-Rhythm which presented a woman grasping at countless shadows and holding none of them. Miss Booth managed to convey a more violent emotion in The Midnight Hour, which came through with a little more intensity than her other dances. In Shopping Spree and Sixteen there was a pleasant charm and freshness, and an indication that Miss Booth might well toss her dance manuals out of the window and dance just for the joy of it.

But just wait till you get this beauty in motion, and you'll know why folks are saying there's nothing on wheels to match it.

That bonnet's not broad and haughty for looks alone; it's brim-filled with power — the satin-smooth power of Buick's big Fireball straight-eight engine.

Go where you will, its two solid tons and soft coil springs on all four wheels make byroad and highroad equally smooth.

You get this in any Buick. But you get something more in the one pictured here.

Its snug top shelters you at the touch of a finger. Its door windows and even its front seat are power-operated by push-button control.

And thanks to the magic of Buick's new Silent Zone mounted bodies, you ride in a solid and road-steady silence such as Convertibles have never known before.

In other words, here's style and size, power and room, convenience and comfort all wrapped up in one of the most exciting models of the year's most wanted car.

That means, of course, that it takes a bit of waiting before one can be yours. But the best way to shorten that wait is to take the all-important step — and get your order in now. We'll take it with or without a trade-in.

A FINGER TOUCH—and the door window runs up or down automatically. Other handy controls raise or lower the top and adjust the front seat.

Days Before Yesterday

By Glenn Clairmonte

In view of two public discussions on the role of the dramatic critic which have recently been led by E. C. Sherburne of Carmel, for forty-seven years reviewer of plays on Eastern newspapers, it is interesting to read again what The Carmel Pine Cone published on this subject under the date of June 9, 1923. The famous playwright, St. John Ervine, was quoted as follows:

"An institution cannot be in a healthy state unless it is continually subjected to vigorous criticism. Mankind lives on, and flourishes, by conflict, and any man who takes his fair share of the fighting must expect to incur odium and to make enemies. If he is any sort of a man at all he ought not to wish to escape from the one or the other, for to be without enemies and never to incur odium is to be two-faced, unprincipled or entirely colorless.

"The monarchy in any country is always strongest when it excites vigorous opposition. Revolutions nearly always take place in the reign of feeble kings. I am told that there was great tyranny in old times, but when I read the chronicals and historical plays I find abundant evidence that great monarchs were frequently told by their nobles and the people exactly what was thought of them.

"And what is true of kings is also true of cabbages. The theater flourishes on strong criticism. The 'kind' critic who lets a bad play or a bad performance down with gentle phrases is the worst enemy the theater has. He confirms the theater-authorities, who are easily confirmed, in the belief that they are right, and he causes the theater-goers to distrust him and them and to abandon the play as a worthless entertainment."

The Pine Cone of 1923 then goes on to say:

"Which is quite sound philosophy, but rather unpalatable for the producer who has ventured thousands on a play, and often seemingly unkind to the actors. But it is very true that play-goers do distrust both the advertisements of theater managers and the criticisms of performances or pictures that are presented in the playhouses.

"It is far easier, and much pleasanter, to write pretty things about a play, a performance or a picture, than to tell the truth about it, if it is bad, which wins the critic nothing but abuse and accusations of ulterior motives, when in all seriousness he may be as kindly as he can and still keep his integrity with the readers of his newspaper or magazine.

"There are a set of men who write of the theater who seem to have only the object in view of making a name for themselves by saying 'smart' things, but they are confined almost entirely to the larger cities of this country. The body of critics in the hinterland, where they have any equipment at all for their work—and it requires long experience in play-going and wide knowledge of the history of the theater as well as acquaintance with current affairs of the stage—are for the most part men who deal as gently with the theater as their consciences permit."

At both the Adult School and the Playhouse Mr. Sherburne named Matthew Arnold and Boileau (of the 16th Century) as the only dramatic critics worthy of that name, but not many of us would have a standard of such high excellence.

For practical purposes it appears that many writers who do not claim to be critics are called upon to comment upon plays that are produced, and nothing but a personal opinion can ever be expected. The value of such an opinion depends upon the writer's background, the development of his judgment and taste, and also upon what he believes to be the best possible achievement of the performers. Frequently praise is given to a player in a star part who nevertheless does not compare with the greatest actor or actress of the century. As a matter of fact, a well balanced mind can appreciate good work without demanding greatness, even though greatness must be the goal of every artist.

SPEAKING AT SEVENTY

Three sonnets from the book by Mary E. Bulkley.

Now that my hair is white, and I recall
The varying phases of my long life-span
I find myself more nearly strange to all
Than to the child, with whom its course began.
Youth was so foolish, grasping and unsure
Filled with the body's needs, the spirit's pain
And middle life's hard labors but inure
To baffled hopes and work where work is vain.
Now age being here, I live set free from care.
Again in peace I watch the sunlight wait
Upon long days, in whose brave light I dare
Follow the path that leads me to the gate.
Ah, gate that lured my childish fancy wide!
I soon shall lift your latch. Who dwells outside?

FERN-SEED

What joy to come unnoticed, freely go,
To do my will, silent and unremarked,
So my child-fancy to the nurse-maid harked;
She said it might be done—and she must know.
Then on the sun-burned, bracken-covered hill
I sought the fern-seed that would give this power
Could I but fill my pocket, then, that hour
Unnoticed, I could come and go, at will.
Now, fine as fern-seed dust the withered days,
Heaped up, have given the largess that I sought.
Where youth is gay, my added years have brought
Unseen remoteness, as I go my ways;
And when the harvest fills my pouch so slight
Then, I may slip for ever out of sight.

A pine-cone is a plummet which the tree
Points to the earth, wherein its strong roots lie,
A retrospect and pregnant prophecy
Of days to come, when bough shall brush the sky.
From the cone's tip uncurled the spirals twine
And widen out in ever-gracious sweep
Of long, far-reaching yet returning line
To catch the great stars in an upward leap.
So, looking back to that primeval slime
Whence faint life sprang, I trace a widening curve
Up to that surge, whose lines in coming time
May reach to splendid planets, and not swerve
To break the lengthening line of life-to-be,
A line which gathers in Eternity.

Have You Read . . . ?

By Rosalind Sharpe

The Enchanted, by Martin Flavin. Harper & Bros. 1947.

Martin Flavin's legendary versatility has taken a new and unprecedented twist with his very enchanted novel, The Enchanted, to be published by Harper's, May 23, which tells the curious, dream-like story of seven Spanish refugee children who emerge from the soul-shattering experiences of war and destruction literally unscathed because of their innocence of heart. In a sense, the seven children who appear in The Enchanted are not children at all, though they are certainly not adults, but some curious symbolism discovered in the Never-Never-Land of the imagination where human values are reduced to a primitive and child-like simplicity unmarred by ugliness until the oldest child, Gil, reaches adolescence, and remembers the meaning of money . . . The whole tenor of the book suggests the words of Jesus, "Except ye become as little children, ye cannot enter in."

Joseph Henry Jackson is quoted on the jacket blurb as saying, "It ought to be enough for Martin Flavin to show that he understands children better than any writer since High Wind in Jamaica. But on top of that he manages a parable as well, and a sharp and meaningful parable too!" Although the parable in its final aspects remains somewhat vague to this reviewer, since the book ends with Gil's leaving the desert island, where the children have been living in a simple Paradise of their own making to strike out for the high mountains where he hopes to find a city with cinemas and ice cream, the main theme seems to be that children (or children in heart) remain untouched by the terrors, ugliness and greed of civilization, and that only those who "grow up"—or become "enchanted" in the language of the Spanish refugee children—are afflicted with the soul-sickness of mankind as they turn away from the kingdom of innocence which may be likened to the Garden of Eden before the Fall of Man. Greed, ambition, knowledge, loneliness and madness are a species of dark enchantment which comes over people when they cease to be children, but whether there is any way of avoiding this process Martin Flavin leaves to the imagination of the reader.

The philosophy of The Enchanted is given very clearly in the soliloquy of Kerch, one of the corrupt adults who appears in the book, on page 116: "Was it possible the life span was a circle, a curved line on the graph?—departing from the child to return to it again, retracing its steps in a moment or an eon? Then repentance might claim sanction of biology—as a natural starting point, misnamed, misapprehended, distorted and confused by superstitious dogma; but an actual point in the arc, at the nadir of the curve, when Life started back toward its entrance in the world—back to childhood whence it came, to the gateway of salvation—

"'Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not . . . for of such is the kingdom of heaven'. Yes, that was it: the words of Christ which meant . . . that Life returned, or might return. Only then could repentance be a fact—not a gesture of negation, but assertion of an actual state of being: 'I m a child again. I have forgotten all I have learned from men, have outgrown all their toys—the painted trifles that they fight and die for, the phantom terrors that they fly from. I have wakened from a dream, an ugly nightmare, I am freed from Greed and Fear; nor will those monsters trouble me again, for I have struggled with them, lived through them, and survived them . . ."

The story of The Enchanted reads like a fairy tale, commencing with the uprooting of the refugee children from a French farm and stowing away (through the aid of a French priest) on a ship leaving for America when France falls to the Germans, and they pass through hazardous adventures including being abandoned on the ship when it is torpedoed by a German submarine, but providentially they are rescued by a sailing vessel with a mermaid on its prow, The Flying Virgin, captained by the corrupt and lecherous Kerch whom the children label the Mouseman, and who is later killed by the Negro Mamud when the latter finds him in his cabin asking a kiss from the half-naked child, Rosa, who has gone there to see pictures of America. Mamud goes mad, forces the crew to leave the ship in a longboat, and the children hide from him because he is "enchanted." A squall and hurricane wreck The Flying Virgin, but instead of sinking she drifts quietly into a desert island where the children go ashore and have a fine time building castles in the sand, looking at butterflies and flowers, hunting and fishing for food and setting up the mermaid from the ship's prow in the forest as the figure of the Virgin Mary. Mamud lost his memory in the wreck of the ship when a falling spar knocked him out, so he is no longer mad but "disenchanted" and has become a simple child like the rest. Trouble at length strikes into Paradise when Gil grows up and goes away from the rest, builds a house where he lives by himself and goes every day to the wrecked ship looking for gold. In the end, the other children destroy the vessel when they discover his "enchantment" and he leaves the beach with its palm trees garlanded with flowers for the high mountains in quest of a city, and Rosa, who has also grown up, follows him.

Combined faculty of High and Sunset Schools, fifty-five strong, gave Mr. and Mrs. Leo Harris and Lorraine a farewell dinner Wednesday evening at the Out Post. Football goal posts indicated that Mr. Harris will be kicking off on his new position in Oregon, where he will be director of athletics. Three ducks, big, medium and little, with papa duck wearing a saddle, represented the Harris family's future. Dancing and cards followed the dinner.

Musical Art Club

May concert of the Musical Art Club will be held May 25, at 8:15 p. m., at the high school music room presenting Basil Allaire, violist; Joyce Stiles, contralto; Betty Lou Jones, violinist; Catherine Winslow, pianist, and Max Hagemeyer, 'cellist.

Featuring these five unusually talented young musicians — all from Monterey Peninsula — the club is proud to have a very fine program for members and their guests under the direction of Angie Machado, program chairman. So much interest has been shown that the program has been scheduled for the Carmel High School because the regular meeting place (Carmel Art Gallery) will not hold so many who wish to attend. Any guests who are especially interested in the performers may request guest tickets from any member.

Monroe Manning Returns

An event of importance to Carmel people who enjoy something different in the way of an evening's entertainment will be the appearance of Monroe Manning at Sunset School, May 23, 8:15 p. m., in a brand new subject: "It Happened in the Theatre." The talk is sponsored by the Carmel Woman's Club, members of which heard him last year and decided then to ask him to make a return visit. In this talk Mr. Manning takes his audience behind the scenes in the theatre and tells of the unrehearsed incidents that happen by mistake during the performance. A compilation of these stories provides hilarious material and establishes him as a prime favorite with groups looking for a talk on the lighter side.

THE VILLAGE CORNER, Carmel's combination coffee house and fountain bar, offers but one kind of coffee, which comes either with or without the best cream and sugar, and many kinds of doughnuts. Early in the morning before ice cream hours appear, you may have your morning coffee at THE VILLAGE CORNER with Mayflower Downieflake Doughnuts iced with chocolate, maple or vanilla, with crullers or doughnut twists, or with Long Johns, which are square doughnuts iced in several flavors.

On the subject of food, here's a word about banana cake, which is a light, succulent delicacy to be had today at THE DOLORES BAKERY. The banana cake consists of two layers made rich and delicious with brown sugar and crushed bananas in the dough, and between the two layers is a thick section of banana jam, the whole iced with a boiled icing. The cakes come in two sizes and two prices.

Those green iron wire cages on four feet in THE CARMEL HARDWARE STORE on Dolores seem destined for burning trash, although they're so decorative I'd like one in my living room. There are some fancy looking Snap-Cut pruning shears in the shop, too, which cut smoothly and cleanly. Other items are an automatic folding iron which fits in a small snap-fastenered case, a whirligig of an egg-poacher and separator, and a group of footed colanders for mashing, straining, steaming or ricing.

GUMP'S on Dolores is having a sale of bar accessories and outdoor eating equipment in order to make room for new merchandise which is fairly damned up in San Francisco. During this sale you can pick up fine decanters, glasses, twin-walled cocktail shakers, antique German beer steins and cocktail sets, many of them for less than cost.

It is possible to obtain an almost complete tan without mental anguish—a tan marred by no white demarcation line across the back and no strap line across the shoulders. All this may be obtained if you wear one of the Sun-sation halters from PUTNAM AND RAGGETT on Ocean Avenue. These halters—more like strapless brassieres than halters—are held securely by a plastic band which holds the rib cage securely and leaves the back bare, and are buttressed firmly in front by two stays. They are neither complicated nor uncomfortable, but most becoming, and they come in white pique and a variety of stripes and woven plaids.

Miss Marguerite Olson, Dorothy Gray's special representative, will be in FORTIER'S on Monday and Tuesday of next week to demonstrate cosmetics and hold consultation on the most effective use of powder, lipstick, rouge and other kindred aids. Miss Olson will be a mine of information, which is both free and useful, and will go well with Dorothy Gray's products, of which there are two interesting ones, the Cellogen Hormone Cream and Lotion for skins not as youthful as once they were, and a hot weather cologne, which contains not only a cool refreshing scent but also a deodorant.

THE CORNER CUPBOARD on Ocean at Dolores has a window full of justly famous Carmel potters' ware. Wyn of Carmel, whose ceramic doorplates mark many a village door, has added several new pieces to her line and her breakfast sets bearing either Carmel oakleaves or blue scallops include egg cups and cereal bowls as well as other breakfast necessaries. The after dinner coffee cups are pretty as can be, with simple lines and delicate decoration. From other local potters, Von Saltza and Dorothy Bassett of Carmel Valley, THE CORNER CUPBOARD has bowls, ash trays, and even dog dishes and name plates for a dog house.

THE STOCKING SHOP in the Golden Bough Court on Ocean Avenue has a group of garters. Now these garters, called Glamour Garters by Hortense Hewitt, are strictly in the frou-frou class. They are intended to hold up your morale rather than your stockings. For brides there are garters in ruffled white satin and lace with a touch of blue ribbon for sentiment's sake. For hussies there are black garters with black lace and a cluster of ermine tails surmounted by a delicate dollar sign. For borderline cases there are garters with just a touch of black net. Honi Soi Qui Mal Y Pense.

The lending library at THE CARMEL BOOKSELLERS on Mission north of Fifth has increased to some 650 volumes—over double its size at birth. All the current best sellers are available and for five cents a day you may read The Wayward Bus, Mrs. Mike, Kingsblood Royal, Three Came Home and other new novels. There's a long list of mysteries, too, by John Dickson Carr, Mignon G. Eberhart, as well as Irene Alexander's books. New books may be rented for five cents a day but older ones cost only ten cents a week and there is no membership fee.

The millennium has not arrived but at least the day of attractive summer dresses at reasonable prices has returned. At THE COLLEGIATE DRESS SHOP on Alvarado Street in Monterey you'll find for only $7.95 a group of dresses in linene, a linenlike fabric which washes well, in colors of gold, melon, blue, and aqua. Some of them have crystal buttons all down the front, with flared skirts and one choice little number has a fly-front closing and a tie-belt all in a shade of yellow. The sizes include 12 to 20 and the price is $7.95.

For baby things that can be washed—and they all have to be—the new Beehive baby yarns to be found at THE COVERED WAGON are highly praiseworthy. These yarns, in soft pink, blue and white are pre-shrunk and treated to make them take to water beautifully. To make room for the yarns THE COVERED WAGON is selling out corde crochet cord in black, navy blue and green for .40 a ball, and lucite bag pulls at half price.

School Board Eats Turkey

Before the board meeting Tuesday evening, members of the school board and their wives were guests at a wonderful turkey dinner, served in the cafeteria of the high school. The table was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and lighted with tall yellow candles. Mrs. Jacqueline Crosby was the artist who cooked the turkey to perfection. The students in the department of home economics who assisted in serving the dinner were Deborah Deering, Blanche Grande, Sandra Pierce, Alys Knight, Dorothea Bourke, Barbara Berg and Barbara Stoney. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferrante, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mawdsley, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nielsen, Mr. and Mrs. G. Moller, Mr. Ted Durein, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cook. Dr. and Mrs. Horace Dormody were out of town and unable to attend.

Lyon-Urwin Nuptials

Jourdine Diawillis Lyon and Dallas Maurice Urwin chose the Church of the Wayfarer as the setting for their wedding Monday evening. Clusters of baby calla lilies were used to decorate the little church and the bridal party came up the aisle which was lit by tapers in tall candlesticks tied with white bows holding the lilies. Before the wedding party entered, Wallace Lowrey of Pacific Grove sang two songs, The Lord's Prayer and Ich Liebe Dich, accompanied by Margaret Sherman Lea. The bride, who came in on the arm of her father, Lawrence Harrison Lyon, wore a gown of white sheer mousseline with a pattern of lilies-of-the-valley. The bodice had a sweetheart neck and long sleeves, and the skirt was made with a train. Her finger-tip veil was held by a bandeau of seed pearls and fresh orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, orchids and stephanotis. Bette Reynolds, maid of honor, was gowned in pink net, and carried a bouquet of blue delphinium and Cecil Bruner roses, surrounded by a ruffle of blue tulle.

Claudine Menezes and Pauline Roberts, the bridesmaids, wore gowns of pink net, and their bouquets were the same as that of the maid of honor except they were ruffled with pink tulle. Mrs. Lyon, mother of the bride, was gowned in a turquoise blue formal and wore a becoming hat of pink flowers. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend John Hunter of Pacific Grove.

Rulan Hodgkinson stood with the groom, and guests were shown to their seats by William Howder and Paul MacDonald. The ushers and attendants of the bride had all gone through school together. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lyon home on Fountain Avenue, Pacific Grove. A four tier wedding cake which stood on a flower decorated table was cut with a knife, an heirloom, that has been carving wedding cakes since 1871.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hutchinson of Morgan Hill, the bride's maternal grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hoyt of San Francisco, were out of town guests.

Jourdine Lyon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Lyon of Pacific Grove. She grew up on the Peninsula and has a host of friends in Carmel. Mr. Lyon, her father, is the division superintendent of the California Water and Telephone Company. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Urwin of Pierce, Nebraska. He served in the armed forces four years, and is now manager of the Kirby Shoe Store in Watsonville, where the young couple will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Urwin left for a honeymoon in the north, the bride wearing a gray suit with blue hat and shoes.

Nielsens Going Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nielsen and their children, Connie, Nancy, Gregory, and Penelope, are starting off for a four months' trip that will be the envy of everybody in Carmel. Walter is going off where nobody can wheedle any sugar away from him and to drown all memories of red stamps and blue stamps and such nightmares in the Atlantic ocean. The Nielsens leave Carmel June 12 and go to New Orleans, from there to Washington, D. C., and on to New York, where they will spend three days before boarding the motor ship Batory, which sails June 20 for Copenhagen. The Batory makes one stop at Southampton, and reaches Denmark July 1. Walter Nielsen's last trip to Copenhagen was 20 years ago. They have rented a house, engaged a cook and maid, and will be free to visit relatives and make contemplated trips to Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, France and England.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, May 18, with the Golden Text taken from Romans: "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestations of the sons of God" (8:19).

The following citations are included in the sermon:

Romans: "O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord" (7:24, 25).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As mortals give up the delusion that there is more than one Mind, more than one God, man in God's likeness will appear, and this eternal man will include in that likeness no material element" (p. 191).

St. John's Chapel
Del Monte

The Rev. Theodore Bell
Chaplain

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a plaace apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life. The Chapel is open all day long. Those who seek in its stillness to grow more conscious of God's presence do not go unrewarded. Sunday services at eight and eleven a.m. The Chapel is close to Hotel Del Monte.

Sport Notes

1947 season in a game which will give untried players a chance to prove their ability. As the game has no bearing on league standings both coaches will use players who will be vieing for positions on next year's varsity. In their previous meeting this season Hollister nosed out the Padres 7 to 6 on the Hollister diamond.

In the final league game of the season the Padres ran into a sterling pitching performance by Bob Toole, Pacific Grove chucker, and were the victims of a no hit, no run performance. Toole had the Padre swingers eating out of his hand for the duration of the game and was never seriously threatened. An error by the centerfielder and two walks were the only lapses committed by the Breaker team.

While Toole was having the best day of his life, the Carmel ace chucker, Lee Winslow, was generous to the extent of allowing Pacific Grove 10 hits and 8 runs. The Padres committed 5 miscues to further clutter the bags with PG runners. Marty Larkin, Breaker shortstop, was the big gun in the slugging department when he bagged three blows, one a smashing home run in deep centerfield.

Termination of play in the B division of the CCAL finds Gonzales at the top of the heap with 5 wins and 1 loss. Carmel was the only team to take the measure of the Spartans. King City wound up in second place, while PG and Carmel were tied for third.

there was consideration of a plan to invest $3,500 in a 60-foot barge which was being sold as surplus government material. It was powered by 2 engines and had 6 pumps, each capable of pumping 500 gallons per minute. It was finally decided that the barge was not precisely what the city needed, and now efforts are being made to persuade the government officials to give Monterey a fire boat which is laid up in Seattle waiting to be disposed of. It is a boat which would fulfill Monterey's requirements, whereas, if it were sold to a private individual for $15,000, the new owner would have to strip it of its expensive fire-fighting equipment. Since no other municipality is asking for this particular gift, there is still hope that it may be received. "Sheridan Downey and Bill Knowland and Tirey Ford and even the commanding officer here at Monterey are all trying their best to get this for the city," Mr. Dorsey said, but he admitted no final decision has as yet been made by the Secretary of the Navy.

Navy and Coast Guard veterans up to the age of 64 are invited to meet in Powers Hall of the Del Monte Hotel tonight at 8:00 in orderto crystallize plans for the new Monterey Naval Reserve Unit which has been authorized by the director of the 12th Naval District at San Francisco.

On May 6 fifty former officers of the Naval Reserve met to organize the unit, with Chief Warrant Officer Charles Dominy as chairman. John B. Morse, president of the Navy League Council, welcomed the men and pledged 100 percent support of the Council, and Commander M. Blackford, the commanding officer of the Del Monte Naval Training School, expressed his interest in the activation of the new unit. Lt. Commander George S. Morrow of Carmel agreed to handle arrangements for the completion of paper work in connection with the applications of the fifty officers present. Lt. Comdr. D. R. Jeffers was appointed to handle publicity and Lt. Comdr. William H. Hohnemann was asked to work out details with Comdr. Blackford for the meeting to be held tonight, at which enlisted men will form a section of the unit.

Besides interesting men who enlisted in the Navy during the war, it is planned to invite boys of seventeen (with parents' consent) and boys of eighteen for special training in any of the following four activities: aviation, for which materials will be drawn from the Auxiliary Air Base; electronics, for which the Del Monte Naval Training School is well equipped; deck for surface ships, including gunnery and boat handling, for which it is expected to procure a ship that may have to be shared by Santa Cruz; and communications, that is, radio and signalling. Invitations have been sent to former Navy men in Salinas, Watsonville, Castroville and King City to join in the new unit.

As soon as the final approval from the 12th Naval District headquarters has been received and the applications accepted, it will be decided how many members will be in the Volunteer Reserve and how many in the Organized Reserve. In the latter a rigid attendance at 48 meetings a year will be required while in the former there will be greater freedom possible. The minimum required for the organization of a unit is 10 officers and 30 enlisted men, but already the attendance shows a far greater number than was anticipated.

Date Set For Bach Festival

Carmel's Tenth Bach Festival will open July 21, and extend through the week with the final program, according to tradition, on Sunday, July 27, an afternoon and evening performance of the B minor Mass.

Outstanding feature of the Tenth Festival will be the performance of all six of the Brandenburg Concertos, an accomplishment which Conductor Gastone Usigli and the Denny-Watrous management have been desiring for a long time. Opportunity to hear all of the Brandenburgs is almost as rare as opportunity to hear the Thirty-two Sonatas of Beethoven.

The roster of soloists is more impressive than ever before. The full program will shortly be announced. Meanwhile, the Bach Festival Chorus is diligently rehearsing the Sleepers Wake and B Minor Mass every Tuesday evening in the Sunset School library. New singers may still enter the ranks.

NEW AT THE P. D.

Arthur McEwen, former San Francisco newspaperman, has joined the Carmel police department as night desk clerk, on duty from 4 p. m.to midnight. Since he served in the signal corps overseas, the police radio is no stranger to him, nor is Carmel, where he has visited for vacations since he was a youngster.

His time, aside from the 4 p. m. to midnight trick, is occupied at present with building a house on San Antonio between Ocean and Fourth for his wife and four-months'-old baby.

Carmel Politics At Salinas J. C. At Boiling Point

There is absolutely no basis for the rumor that half the Carmel high school student body went over to Salinas today disguised as junior college students so as to swell the vote for Russ Bohlke for student body president.

Popular as Russ was last year in Carmel High, first as student body vice-president and later as president, his former schoolmates in Carmel are willing to let democratic processes take their natural course.

As one Carmel high school senior said, "If those J. C. students are dumb enough to vote for the other guy instead of Russ, they deserve what they get."

The Carmel contingent legally registered as students at J. C. are not so philosophical about Bohlke's candidacy. Bill Goss, Bohlke's campaign manager, assisted by Bud Yerkes, Jim Heisinger, Bob Holm, and Warren Johnson, have been working their ingenuity to the bone. They culminated their campaign yesterday with the handing out of printed leaflets urging the student body to "Vote for Bohlke for President." Fortunately, their outstanding campaign idea was appropriated by the other side.

Supporters of Ray Perry, Bohlke's opponent, got wind that the Bohlke forces were going to drop the dodgers from an airplane flown over the campus, so they jumped out and got a pilot to drop Perry pamphlets on the campus ahead of the Bohlke onslaught. Result—the army, navy and marines, not to mention the Salinas chief of police, cracked down on the aerial pamphleteer for flying low over a congested area, so that there is grave doubt that he will ever enjoy the use of his license to fly again.

When The Pine Cone went to press, the votes had not yet been counted.

RACE DISCUSSION

More than forty men and women gathered in room 11 of Sunset School last Tuesday evening to hear Warren Wright's review of Sinclair Lewis' new novel, Kingsblood Royal, and later Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte conducted an open discussion on the subject of race prejudice, its reasons and possible solutions. The problem was considered coolly and with admirable sincerity in spite of the varying opinions, and at the close of the evening there were friendly congratulations exchanged on the civilized attitude that had been achieved.
